Preface

Dear Tobago,

As we bring this year's 'autonomy survey' to a close, we extend our heartfelt gratitude to those who took the time to participate. We also welcome greater participation in our surveys so that we can achieve a more thorough representation of Tobago and its diaspora. However, your thoughtful responses play a pivotal role in achieving our objectives of:

Gauging Attitudes and Perceptions: Your insights have provided a reasonable understanding of local residents' attitudes towards autonomy/self-governance, particularly in relation to the Constitutional Amendment (Tobago Self-Government) Bill.

Fostering Awareness: Through your participation, we are raising awareness about the process involved in acquiring autonomy/self-governance.

Promoting Understanding: Your input contributes to a shared understanding of autonomy/self-governance and its implications, contributing to informed discussions.

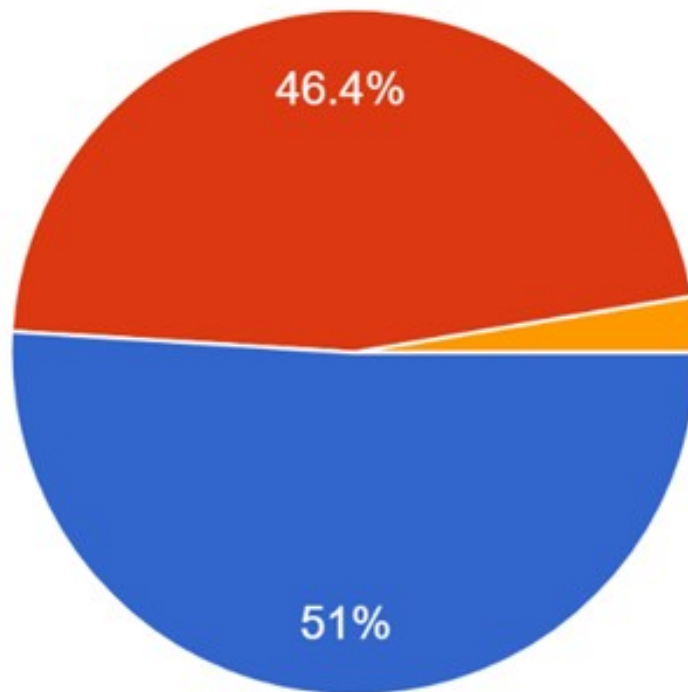

Encouraging Consensus: We are grateful for your efforts in helping us identify common ground and encouraging consensus on the necessary steps to achieve autonomy/self-governance.

As we analyse the data, we anticipate unveiling a wealth of information regarding respondents' knowledge, perceptions, and the importance attributed to autonomy. Your honesty and engagement have been instrumental, and we look forward to delving into the findings in the coming months. Once again, thank you for being an integral part of this crucial initiative.

Best regards,

Tobago CivilNET

Are you familiar with the concept of autonomy / self-governance for Tobago?

Responses: 153

Yes: 94%

No: 6%

If yes, please briefly describe your understanding of autonomy/self-governance in the context of Tobago?

Summary of Responses

Self-governance/autonomy - Many responses focus on Tobago having more control and decision-making power over its own affairs without interference from Trinidad's central government. This includes making laws, controlling resources, budgeting, etc.

Self-determination - Related to autonomy, but more about Tobago charting its own course and determining its own future and path forward. Not being dependent on or dictated to by Trinidad.

Greater power and authority for the THA - Giving more governance power and authority to the Tobago House of Assembly to make decisions and run the island without needing approval from the central government.

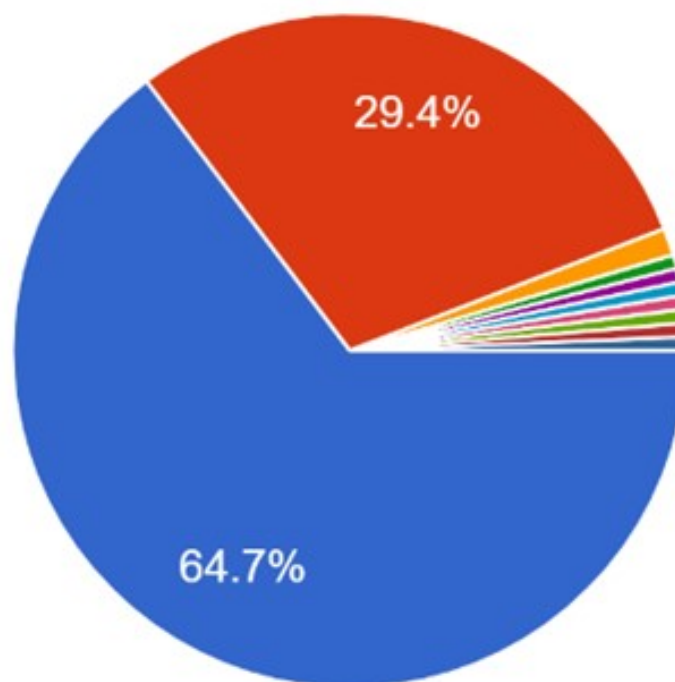

Equal partner to Trinidad - Tobago being seen and treated as an equal to Trinidad within the two island nation, not subservient. Acknowledging Tobago's unique interests within the unitary state.

Economic control and development - Managing Tobago's budgets, finances, revenues, resources to allow greater economic control and spur development. Not being dependent on handouts from Trinidad.

Dissatisfaction with current arrangement - Expressions that the current relationship with Trinidad is untenable and needs change. More decision-making power should reside in Tobago.

Sovereignty - A few mentions of complete independence/sovereignty for Tobago, though most stop short of this and focus on greater autonomy.

Which entity has the most influence in how Tobago is governed?

Responses: 153

Central Government: 65%

Tobago House of Assembly: 29%

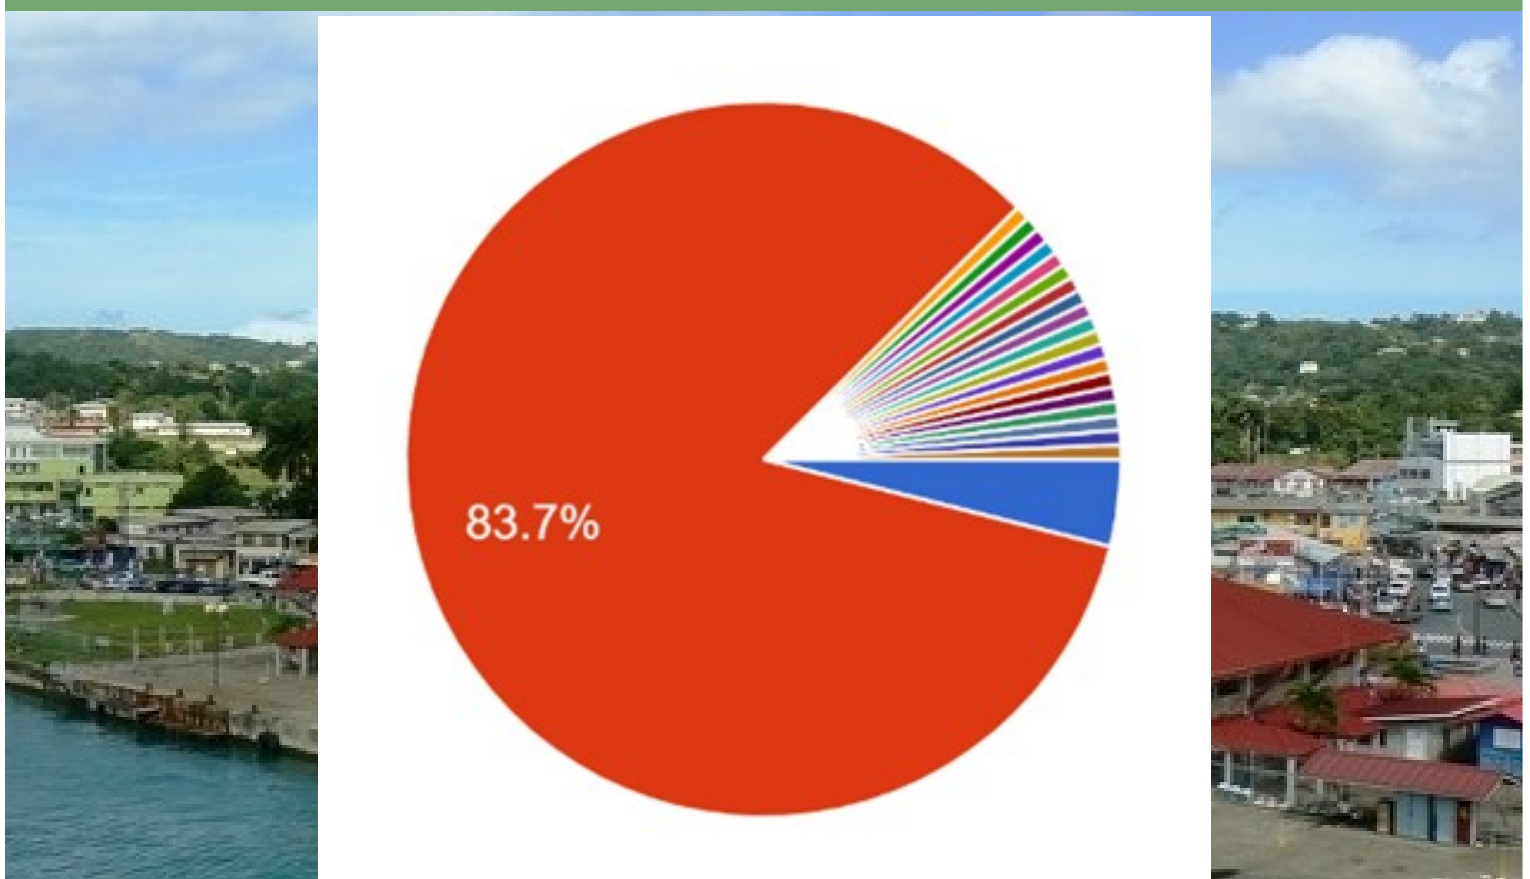

Other: 6%

(summary)

- Both
- The people
- THA when not impeded by the Central Gov.
- The parliament

Which entity should have the most influence in how Tobago is governed?

Responses: 153

Central Government: 4%

Tobago House of Assembly: 84%

Other: 12%

(summary)

- Both
- A democratised THA
- Fair government from Trinidad
- National Parliament joint sitting

QUESTION 9

In your opinion, which of the following would autonomy / self-governance for Tobago mean?

(Tick all that apply)

- ☐ More financial power in the hands of the THA
- ☐ The power for the Assembly to make laws
- ☐ Independent institutions free from Cabinet directives and oversight
- ☐ Clear definition of territorial boundaries
- ☐ All of the above
- ☐ Other...

| Clear definition of territorial boundaries | 56 (37%) |
| Independent institutions free from Cabinet directives and oversight | 53 (35%) |

Responses: 153 Summary of 'Other' Responses

Requests for more autonomy/power complete separation and a new arrangement that guarantees our economic development and control ability to collect tax revenue from business, property, income and trading right to determine the destiny of the island and the right for its residents to take ownership of their role

Criticism of current governance

a few persons behaving like royalty

Tobago would only benefit from these changes if the power of the Assembly is properly used we cannot allow the Assembly to govern the way Central Government governs. It is time to get rid of the corruption and do the job properly and honestly nonsensical, Poverty for the citizens of Tobago

Suggestions for more democracy/consultation

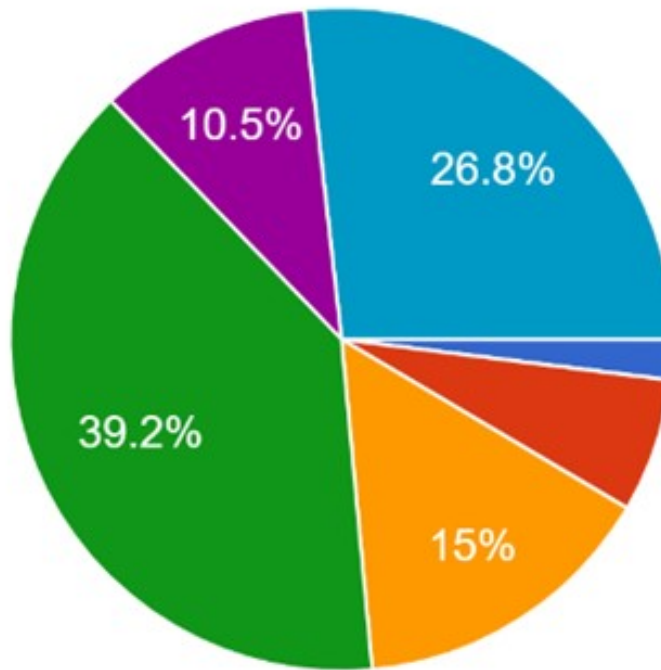

regular formal and compulsory consultation

Tobagonians themselves having greater influence in the governance

a proper national constitution

a seat at the table with respect to foreign relations

| Meteorology | 59 (39%) |
| Judiciary | 58 (38%) |
| The President | 15 (10%) |

Responses: 153 Summary of 'Other' Responses

Institutional Control

- joint responsibility in all areas
- 51% majority vote in all areas
- representation in all areas
- local institutions not branches
- ability to impose local tax

Shared Authority

- Some collaboration needed in areas of joint interest
- Some scaled down authority possible
- Can have a role in some not all areas
- Ridiculous to build all institutions for small population

Against Autonomy

- None should be placed on schedule
- Will produce additional spending
- Not ready to take on these large entities
- Autonomy not the same as secession

Concerns

- Only if infrastructure and competencies in place
- Needs actual delivery and oversight of these areas
- Politically motivated question
- Sigh

How can Tobago fund its autonomy / self-governance?

(Tick all that apply)

- ☐ Collecting revenues from natural resources (oil/gas fields, quarry, spring water)

Summary of 'Other' Responses

Strategies for Development

- New Education structure to promote innovation
- Our story (self-determination)
- Community-based analysis of resources
- Align traditions, values with all development plans
- Capitalizing on the 1.4M strong consumer market in Trinidad

Governance and Legal Considerations

- Application of the Law Act 40 of 1996 for companies with franchises in Tobago to pay all taxes in Tobago
- Adopting a participatory governance model
- Constitution guarantees equal opportunity and access for Tobago residents
- Need for constitution reform on a national scale
- Autonomy requires financial independence and rule-setting capability

Funding and Economic Perspectives

- This question clearly highlights the lack of understanding of how economies expand and contract.
- This is a conundrum; the above measures cannot be implemented under the current construct
- Hope for financial support (Let's hope Farley has money)
- Uncertainty and challenges in current economic and governance structure
- Emphasis on understanding economic expansion and contraction, calling for expertise

What actions do you believe the central government should take to achieve autonomy / self-governance for Tobago?

Summary of 'Other' Responses

Constitutional and Governance Reforms

- remove the arbitrary lower/upper percentage range to budgetary allocations
- set senate seats for Tobago
- pass a Law that allows Elected leaders in Tobago to have debates/motions in Parliamentary
- re-establish a DRC (Development and Reconstruction Committee) with Caricom participation
- pass the existing Bill with the 6 changes Tobagonians requested

Democratic Process and Public Participation

- make a decision after the People have spoken.
- the "will of the people" must be updated and reflect the CURRENT will of the people. What ended up at JSC was NOT the bill leaving Tobago.
- the previous process was done very wrong, leaving out the majority of the people. Many voices were cut short and not heard.
- begin a push towards a confederation-type arrangement between the two islands.

Economic and Development Priorities

- Tobago spends money badly on fetes, parties, a failed Carnival. THA spends little money on Marine science, technological Business development.
- self-governance must be a lower priority to revenue development.
- as I said, four separate States for TT. Northern State, Central State, Southern State, and State of Tobago. Amen!

Summary of 'Other' Responses

International Engagement and Relations

- International petitioning to Caricom, Commonwealth, OAS, UN for moral suasion via international embarrassment.
- Take the situation to the UN, CARICOM, OAS
- Seek international or Caricom involvement
- Involve Caricom. Write to UN for support
- Try international means if that's possible

Public Awareness and Education

- Consult and educate the people about the status of the Bill and the reasons why the Bill has not yet been passed.
- Let the Poll confirm Party Lines.
- Take the conversation away from party politics and view autonomy as a development strategy.
- Educate on consequences and action plan.
- Stop the foolishness and make Tobago a paradise for its residents.
- THA should seek independence.

Political Advocacy and Engagement

- Petition President and Parliament.
- Propose a new bill and propose amendments to other bills to give force to the THA.
- Tobago should become non-political, going back to the roots of the ideas about Assembly - with representatives - not political parties.
- Try international means if that's possible.

Economic Development Strategies

- Formulate new CEDP (3.0), strengthen its economic base.
- The nation as it is, should remain 'Rep. Trinidad and Tobago.'

Responses: 153

Summary of 'Other' Responses

Advocacy for Autonomy

- All parties must sign on a convention to petition the British Parliament for Autonomy.
- Unless the opinion leaders in Trinidad who influence the central government have their interests in Tobago threatened by inaction of the government then there is no real political will of central government to relent.
- We need to know the details and expected changes to our way of life.
- Voting en block with one voice.
- Demonstrations and civil disobedience should be removed from this list.
- Tobagonians are misled into thinking Trinidad is our enemy and we're at war.
- The emotions need to be removed, and realistic expectations be placed instead.
- Engage with International groups to this end.

Mass Mobilization and International Engagement

- Have discussions on other ways that Tobago can achieve its self-government and get what it wants, without Us having to beg and continue the cycle of...
- If all else fails, we should seek outside help. Russia, Cuba, etc. (no former or neocolonial power).
- Take action by Petition to International Courts and Human Rights Council.

Challenges and Readiness for Self-Governance

- None. Focus on economic development and a population education in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics.
- Put your money where your mouth is.
- Take time to introspect deeply and consider what values we want our society to follow.
- The mass has a lack of knowledge and depends on hearsay causing many not to believe that we can make it on our own. Plus, Tobagonians have a dependency syndrome.

- No participation in systemic slavery by operating in my autonomous power as an indigenous of the land (sustainable lifestyle and collective movement)
- We must negotiate from strength, not attack Central Government. Unless we absolutely have to
- Again, the bigger the nation, the more effective. Maybe it's time to try Federation like the Philippines.
- i am prepared to boycott most Trinidad consumables and buy local only
- Advocate to the Dispute Resolution Committee.
- What ever gives us independence
- Petition the International Courts and Human Rights
- None, I don't waste my time with nonsense. Not until there's a clear plan.
- Tobago value to Trinidad and Tobago Economy
- i am against this divisiveness under the guise of this autonomy. I am willing to work to elevate Tobagonians but not in the form of Tobago against Trinidad
- Tobagonians must no longer beg for autonomy. The cycle of sending bills to Trinidad to fail must end.
- I disagree with all the above
- No, I have been doing it and most people don't read, only rely on gossip

Responses: 153

Summary of 'Other' Responses

Economic Development and Entrepreneurship

- Not autonomy, independence!
- Entering international competitions under a separate Tobago banner
- Before approaching external we must assess what we have internally
- All of the above requires approval from the oppressor. Autonomy is a government issue there is no other way
- Unfettered access to international funding options that we're currently precluded from by being attached at the hip to Trinidad's upper middle class
- Improved self-confidence in the people of Tobago
- Autonomy is unnecessary
- Autonomy is the first requirement
- The above 4 are exactly the benefits
- The only way forward is political reform. Can't be doing the same thing over and over and expect a difference.
- Autonomy of an underdeveloped island like Tobago will reduce citizens to poverty with a small group of wealthy tyrants sitting pretty at the top
- Where are your taxes paid? and who controls your revenue when they come in?
- More educated persons to engage with society
- We only beg for more money and allow Central Government to screw with us
- Autonomy requires economic resources and economic resources require sense

Please provide any additional comments or suggestions regarding autonomy / self-governance for Tobago

Summary of 53 responses:

Political Strategies

- Tobagonians suggest reigniting discussions in Trinidad to push for a referendum in the upcoming General Elections.
- It's urged that all political parties in Tobago promptly call for the reintroduction of the autonomy bill in the House to avoid potential delays.

Autonomy Advocacy and Challenges

- Advocates stress that pursuing autonomy should demonstrate direct benefits for all Tobagonians, presenting both pros and cons transparently for a majority vote.
- Some express the need to remove the People's National Movement (PNM), viewing it as a hindrance to Tobago's development.
- Concerns are raised about the practicality of autonomy amid existing infrastructural challenges and environmental issues.
- Calls for education and support focus on raising awareness about the autonomy bill and placing Tobago's interests at the forefront.

Call for Action and Preparedness

- Tobagonians are encouraged to actively participate in the autonomy movement and understand its importance.
- Urgent action is stressed, emphasizing that continuous dialogue is crucial for progress.
- Some respondents express frustration with the current survey's effectiveness and call for a more impactful approach.
- Clarity is sought in autonomy-related questions, with an emphasis on comprehensive education and system improvements for goods and services.
- The sentiment is shared that achieving autonomy requires the active involvement of Tobagonians, and the matter has been delayed for too long.
- Calls for educating the populace, particularly the youth, through social media and community engagement are highlighted.
- The sentiment is expressed that autonomy must be taken rather than granted by the central government.
